Contents

13 Foreword

15 Introduction
A Glimpse of Glory

20 Chapter One
Survival & Revival: 1890 – 1897

23 The Phoenix Rises
23 Two trial streetcars "as full as it was possible for them to be"
25 Electric power a "new fangled notion"
28 Future brightness fades
30 Vancouver to New Westminster: a new link between two cities
31 Canada's longest interurban line opens

38 The Competition: "The streets are blocked with wagons and cabs"
38 Stagecoaches: mired in mud
38 Ships: Fraser River steamship service
39 Trains: single fare a hefty dollar
40 Bicycles: same speed limit as a streetcar
41 Horse and carriage: only for the wealthy

42 Fairview Line: "It was a positive disgrace"

45 Business Districts Rely on Transit: "We beg for an extension of the car line"

49 Labour Scene: "40 cents for a day's work"

52 Women on Transit: They provoked "a dickens of a row"

53 The Stanley Park Line: "A brewery at each end"

55 Safety Issues: Teamsters should "take great care not to leave horses on the street"

59 Freight: "Settlers' effects carried free when accompanied by someone"

64 Chapter Two
Growth to Greatness: 1898 – 1903

67 From Woebegone to Award-Winner in Five Short Years
67 "Vancouver has benefited immensely . . . amply proved by the increased receipts of our Company"
71 Of wages and work: a union local forms
72 Consolidation brings greater security
73 B.C.-built cars a first
77 Dupont Street: "Gambling goes on promiscuously all over Vancouver"
82 The Interurban: "I presumed it would always be with us"

90 Chapter Three
Glory!: 1904 – 1912

93 Vancouver: "Supreme and Peerless City of Canada"
93 Public transit "like something of a miracle"
94 Labour: "The street railway was a great provider of jobs"
101 Transit as a White Man's World: "No Oriental labour employed"
101 Chinese labourers
104 Japanese labourers
106 Asian passengers on transit
107 Entertainment: "The elite used the trams extensively"
111 North Vancouver: "Whisked along the street at a good brisk speed"
114 All-Weather Service: "Waiting for connections in wet and cold weath is a great waste of our time"
120 Freight: "Transit customers served from the cradle to the grave"
122 Strawberry fields forever
122 Sockeye run on the rails
124 Milk and mail on the move
126 Real Estate: "A business street cannot exist without a carline"
132 Point Grey: Transit plans prove too grandiose for this former "wasteland"
134 Observation Car: "Party on wheels" gives sightseeing a twist
138 Stanley Park: "Improved aesthetics" or "lunch baskets and bottled beer"?
140 Accidents: "Lakeview disaster" city's worst transit tragedy
143 "Juggernauts traverse our streets with no protection whatsoever"

149 Sporting Events: Avid fans take public transit to games
149 "Lacrosse specials": trains transported thousands to each game
154 Horse racing: fans ride world's first railway dome cars
156 Baseball: B.C. Electric defies the law to transport baseball fans
159 Special Events: "All traffic on the line halted" for royal visits
167 Robbers and Rogues Add Danger to the Ride: "He called me a vile name under his breath"
170 Outdoor Leisure: Passengers with feathers and fur ride in the baggage car

174 Chapter Four
The Future Beckons: 1913 – 1915

177 Cars and Jitneys Around the Corner
177 "Rails-to-rubber" transformation awaits
181 Vancouver's Hobble Skirt Car: "It will prove one of the greatest enemies of the limousine and taxicab"
188 Transit Uniforms: "Gave a man an air of authority"
193 The Competition
193 Automobiles: "devil-wagons" provide new rides
194 Motor buses: new options discussed
195 Taxis: started in 1910
196 Jitneys: wild rides posed major threat
197 At Close Quarters: No chaperone required
198 Streetcars Deliver Bundles to Newsies: "We'd shout 'Extra, extra' with the war news"

205 Epilogue
From Sleek to Obsolete to Repeat Performances
207 Bibliography
210 Appendix A Some Rolling Stock Facts and Figures
214 Appendix B Streetcar Service in Greater Vancouver, 1890 to 1915
218 Appendix C Interurban Service in Greater Vancouver, 1890 to 1915
220 Appendix D Plan Showing Interurban Transit Lines Vancouver & District
221 Index